Regulatory Applications

Certain types of regulatory applications and notifications must be advertised by either the applicant or the Crofting Commission in a newspaper circulating in the locality of the croft/common grazings.

The Crofting Commission has confirmed, in the absence of any single legal definition of a newspaper, that it will follow this general definition:

“Usually a daily or weekly publication composed of folded sheets, containing news, advertisements, topical articles, correspondence, etc”.

In addition the newspaper must be circulated in the local area.

Crofters must advertise to make the following changes to their croft:

- Assignment
- Apportionment
- Division of a croft
- Exchange of croft land
- Letting
- Subletting
- Short-Term lets

Common Grazings must advertise for the following:

- Appointment of a new Grazings Committee

The Crofting Commission is responsible for advertising:

- Decrofting
- Registration of a common grazing
- Creating new crofts

The Commission will accept adverts, as required by crofting legislation, that are placed in papers that are either daily or weekly. The Commission may accept adverts in fortnightly or monthly newspapers.

“Usually a daily or weekly publication composed of folded sheets, containing news, advertisements, topical articles, correspondence, etc”.

If you would like to advertise in a publication not listed below consent is required in advance from the Area Commissioner on a case to case basis. This allows Commissioners to satisfy themselves on whether the publication meets the criteria and whether it is circulated in the local area associated with that notification.

Below is a list of publications accepted by the Commission. This list will be added to over time to include exceptions to the general policy. Please note: the newspapers listed below are in respect of the Crofting Commission's regulatory applications only. For croft registration advertisements please see Registers of Scotland website www.ros.gov.uk/services/forms/guidance-and-forms/notice-of-first-registration-of-a-croft
